

Administering Multiple ColdFusion Projects within Your Organization

Posted At : May 6, 2009 4:01 PM | Posted By : Liz Frederick

Related Categories: schedule, conference, attendees, classes, community, events, registration

This is a new Pre-Conference Class given by Mike Collins, Charlie Arehart, Aaron Wolfe and another special guest speaker.

August 11th 2009, 9am - 5:30pm
Lansdowne Resort and Conference Center
Cost: $549

CU246 - Administering Multiple ColdFusion Projects within Your Organization

Who should attend this class?

Anyone interested in learning how to setup an environment within their organization that can support multiple ColdFusion projects without sacrificing security, scalability and performance.

What are the prerequisites (experience)?

Attendees should be familiar with the multi-server version of ColdFusion.

What should people expect to get out of this class?

Attendees will learn how to setup an environment within their organization that can support multiple ColdFusion projects without sacrificing security, scalability and performance. The course will offer a unique blend of topics to make attendees capable of setting up an enterprise infrastructure around ColdFusion deployments.