

15 days left before last early bird rate changes

Posted At : March 17, 2008 12:59 PM | Posted By : Liz Frederick

Related Categories: registration

The last early bird rate change is March 31st!! That means the price will increase by $100 at midnight 3/31/08

Why should you register now? You can create your personal schedule and plan your days. Next month we will see the most popular sign ups and decide Saturday's schedule of repeats. Also, if you register early enough, you will receive your free t-shirt in the mail sooner.

Did you know that we have discounts? email info (at) cfunited.com

Many have asked why do we even have early bird rates. The reason is that CFUnited has to plan and commit to spend a chunk of the costs for these events ahead of time. So when you see an early bird rate change you know when we have bills due. CFUnited is funded solely by its sponsors and ticket sales. Thank you for registering each year and keeping CFUnited going for almost a decade! This year you won't be disappointed. Expect your money's worth and more. This year bring a friend and take a tour in downtown Washington DC.