Nick Watson (Adobe, Inc.)

As a Technical Account Manager for ColdFusion, Flex and LiveCycle Data Services ES, he is responsible for managing, driving and maintaining technical relationships with major customers in Europe that use these Adobe Enterprise technologies. He previously held the position of Senior Support Engineer and Senior Consultant for ColdFusion, JRun and Spectra during the Macromedia and Allaire days. His daily contact with customers and developers give Nick an excellent view and knowledge of how Adobe technology is deployed and used.
