

Brian Rinaldi speaking at CFUnited USA

Posted At : February 5, 2008 5:40 PM | Posted By : Liz Frederick

Related Categories: speakers

We are sorry to hear that Rob Gonda will not be able to make it to CFUnited 2008. In his place, Brian Rinaldi will be presenting on "Writing an RIA? Secure your data!" For more details about this topic, go to <http://cfunited.com/go/topics/2008#topic-1593>

Brian Rinaldi is a programmer, Adobe Community Expert, manager of the Boston ColdFusion User Group and organizer of Flex Camp Boston. Brian is an Advanced Certified ColdFusion MX Developer, as well as a Microsoft Certified Professional. Brian is most well known for his efforts promoting open-source projects in ColdFusion, especially for maintaining the ColdFusion open-source list as well as the weekly updates, both of which you can find via his web site at <http://www.remotesynthesis.com>.