

Charlie Arehart - Web Services Tips and Tricks

Posted At : May 22, 2007 12:00 AM | Posted By : Christian Ready

Related Categories: podcast

We all know that CFML makes web services creation and consumption easy. Still, there tips and tricks that can solve common problems in working with them, or expose new possibilities you may not have considered. In this presentation, veteran CFUG speaker Charlie Arehart will share some useful (and some little used) features of ColdFusion MX, BlueDragon, and Dreamweaver MX to help you make the most of web services. He'll also show several ways to test web services, as well as point out some interesting and useful examples of real web services you can use in business today. He'll also cover challenges of passing data between CFML and other web service apps, including .NET.

- Direct link to .mp3
- Presentation
- Code

Add this blog's RSS feed to your podcast player!